3. Authority of Privately Compensated Temporary Judge

The privately compensated temporary judge shall have and exercise all powers and duties of a San Diego Superior Court Judge, including but not limited to those enumerated in Code Civ. Proc. §§ 166, 167, 177, 177.5 and 187. The privately compensated temporary judge must refer the following actions or motions to the assigned trial court judge: (1) any action for contempt which may result in actual imprisonment; (2) any action or proceeding for domestic violence temporary and/or permanent restraining orders; (3) any motion or application to seal records; and (4) a motion for leave to file a complaint in intervention. Any motion to withdraw a stipulation for the appointment of the temporary judge must be referred to the Supervising Family Law Judge. (Cal. Rules of Court, rules 2.831, 2.834)

In addition, the parties agree that the privately compensated temporary judge will not be compelled to testify as a witness in this proceeding and has judicial immunity to the same extent that a Judicial Officer of the California Superior Court would have.

4. Certified Shorthand Reporter

A certified shorthand reporter (CSR) will will not be present at all proceedings.

Optional: Except at ex parte hearings.

If a CSR is present at a proceeding, all orders and judgments rendered by the privately compensated temporary judge will be appealable in accordance with applicable statutes and rules.

If a CSR is not present at a proceeding, the parties waive their respective rights to the following: (1) statement of decision; (2) motion for a new trial; and (3) right to appeal.

5. Restrictions

- a. The case file may not be removed from the court.
- b. The parties are responsible for providing the privately compensated temporary judge with file stamped copies of all relevant pleadings, records and documents necessary to adjudicate the case at their own expense.
- c. All original pleadings must be filed with the court prior to submission of a filed stamped, conformed copy of the pleading to the privately compensated temporary judge.
- d. Parties must file one original and one copy of the "Notice of Pending Matter Before a Privately Compensated Temporary Judge" (SDSC Form #D-010) for all matters pending before the privately compensated temporary judge. The Clerk of the Court will post the notice in the lobby of the courthouse where the matter is pending.
- e. Signed orders of the privately compensated temporary judge must be presented for filing to the business office where the case was initiated.
- f. Minute orders will not be accepted unless they are signed by the privately compensated temporary judge. If the minute order format is used, the order must set forth the name, address, telephone number, and CSR number of any privately retained court reporter. If electronic reporting is used, the minute order shall so state.
